Healing Through

A fine art collection of original works assembled for Central City Concern

*Phase 2 Addendum
As of April 2017*

In 2012, Central City Concern's (CCC) volunteer Art Task Force launched the Healing Through Art Initiative to assemble a fine art collection of original works to enhance the healing experience of clients at CCC's Old Town Recovery Center and Old Town Clinic, and to enrich the environment for staff and all who visit this downtown Portland health campus. As the collection took shape, feedback from clients and staff was enthusiastic and appreciative.

When completion of the initial Healing Through Art Collection was celebrated in January 2016, the task force was challenged to continue its work in several of CCC's housing communities and program sites. So began Phase 2.

Now, we are very excited to celebrate completion of the Healing Through Art Collection - Phase 2. It is our pleasure to acknowledge and thank the generous donors who made it possible to integrate nearly 100 pieces of original art into the public areas of five additional buildings over the 18 months.

Donors include both artists and collectors, several of whom contributed multiple pieces:

Katherine Ace	Susan Monti	Marcy & Richard Schwartz
Pam Baker & Clark Anderson	Betsy Reese	Anka Sepulveda
Bennett & Sylvia Engelman	Terry Rogers	David Slader
Bob Kochs & Phyllis Osborne	Carole Romm	Beverly Stein
Mary Jo Mann	Laura Ross-Paul	Kathleen Stephenson-Kuhn
Hal McCartor	Bethany Rowland	Sherrie Wolf

Original works from these donors have been installed in the lobbies, community rooms, and elevator landings at the Estate Hotel, Madrona Studios, Miracles Central, the Sally McCracken building, and CCC's Puentes program; 11 new pieces were also added at the Old Town Recovery Center and Old Town Clinic.

Phase 3 will launch in July 2017, with plans for new art installations at Miracles Central and the Imani Center inside the Golden West Hotel building, as well as the Interstate Apartments, Stark Street Apartments, and Eastside Health & Housing Center, all three of which are slated to break ground this year and will be completed in late 2018.
